

States Slammed by Jobless Claims

Even though many jobless claims are delayed by clogged state application systems, those already filing claims since mid-March have reached nearly a quarter of the workforce in Michigan, Pennsylvania, Hawaii, Rhode Island and Kentucky.

Source: Stateline analysis of U.S. Department of Labor jobless claims and U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics data on labor force and unemployment in February